

4th NEA Science Day

February 11, 2010

University of Puerto Rico
Mayagüez

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

All UPRM undergraduate and graduate students doing research in science and engineering are invited to present their works in a poster session, and discuss subjects of mutual interest with faculty and peer graduate students from the visiting institutions.

The goal of this event is sharing student research experiences, achievements, and plans with faculty and students of the ten institutions of the NEA and setting the basis for collaborations.

For abstract submission visit:
