

Evidence 2023.4.2.1: Attendance of Focus Group Directors

Evidence Overview

This evidence pertains to the attendance of a focus group, showcasing the participation of individuals both in person and online. In essence, it provides insights into the physical and virtual presence of individuals who took part in the focus group session. This information is invaluable for assessing the diversity of attendance modes, understanding the preferences of participants, and analyzing the potential impact of these different modes of participation on the outcomes and dynamics of the focus group.
