Dr. Santiago Méndez Hernández
Teacher Preparation Program Director
University of Puerto Rico, Mayagüez

We hereby state that the University of Puerto Rico at Mayagüez (UPRM) has established a significant collaboration with the Educational Region of Mayagüez to strengthen the professional development of teachers of the Department of Education. Through this alliance, UPRM has offered its educational facilities and human resources to support this important initiative.

During this school year, teachers have had the opportunity to participate in a variety of professional development programs designed to enhance their pedagogical skills and promote excellence in teaching. These sessions include interactive workshops, keynote lectures and practical activities that address relevant topics in the field of education.

We appreciate UPRM's commitment to the professional growth of educators in our region and recognize its collaboration with the educational community to promote academic excellence and success for our students.

Cordially,

Regional Superintendent
