CREATIVE

NONFICTION

"If you consider what is on the reading list for most college students around the world, you will find that what and how they read generally upholds Eurocentric values and modes of knowing. In this hierarchy, writing and the sciences are at the top while the arts and oral traditions are at the bottom."

Frances Negrón Muntaner

"The overarching mission of creative nonfiction [is] to tell true stories and to provide your audience with unforgettable and impactful factual insight and information."

Lee Gutkind
