

Science, Technology and Engineering Grad Student

Presents:

Successful Technology Ventures: A Few Good MABs & a Few Good Puerto Rican Entrepreneurs

Wednesday, August 29, 2012.

6:00 p.m.- 7:30p.m.

Business Administration Building (AE 242)

Dr. Ignacio Pino, president of CDI Technologies, Inc., will present how his business achieved the positioning to successfully commercialize a new technology and obtain $12.4 million in federal and state and private funding.

PRE-REGISTER AT: uprm.edu/cep

By clicking on the link: Pre-registration to a workshop.

(Contact hours certificate will be award by the CEP)

PIZZA AND REFRESHMENTS WILL BE AVAILABLE.

Sponsored by:

PUERTO RICO Science, Technology & Research Trust

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY & TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER OFFICE
Research and Development Center, University of Puerto Rico at Mayagüez

CDI LABORATORIES

A promising young Puerto Rican biotechnology company that focuses in the field of human proteomics, specially the field of monoclonal antibodies. CDI's products and services are accelerating biomedical research, immunodiagnostics and therapeutic antibody development world-wide.