

Puerto Rico Teacher Certification Exam Results 2014-2016

The following table shows compares the passing rates of UPRM graduates on the Puerto Rico Teacher certification exams over the past three years. The exams are offered in March of each calendar year. A subsequent table provides a year by year comparison and greater detail. With the exception of the Secondary Social Science or History Teacher Certification exam, 87% of UPRM graduates passed the certification exams. Over the past three years 3 UPRM Social Science teacher candidates have taken the exam a total of 7 times. This means that 47 of 56 (84%) UPRM Secondary Social Science or History Teacher candidates have passed their certification exam. The low success rate in Social Science is still a matter of concern. That success rate has been closely correlated with adequate preparation in History. In collaboration with the UPRM Department of Social Sciences, the TPP identified specific courses that Social Science teacher candidates needed to succeed on the certification exam. Since 2010, the UPRM TPP has required Social Science teacher candidates to complete these History courses before enrolling in Teaching Practice.

Historically, the highest score on 1 to 4 Puerto Rico Teacher Certification exams is made by a UPRM teacher candidate each year. Given that UPRM teacher candidates account for 5 - 20% of the test takers for any one certification exam, this attests to their consistent quality. The following table includes the top ^T scores by UPRM candidates for the past three years.

¹ Until 2016 the Fundamental Knowledge and Professional Skills Exams were given and scored separately.

² Less than 10 UPRM candidates have taken the Elementary Level exam in three years.
